

Maritime and Port Logistics of the MHCL 2019 - Bar Conference Maritime Industry Session – MIS

Invited Speakers

Assoc. Prof. Ts. Dr. Noorul Shaiful Fitri ABDUL RAHMAN, CILTM & LM IK

Universiti Malaysia Terengganu, Malaysia
School of Maritime Business and Management

Topic: Malaysian ports

He was held a position as Special Officer to Vice Chancellor (Special Programmes), Universiti Malaysia Terengganu, Malaysia. He received his Master in Transport and Maritime Management from ITMMA, University of Antwerp, Belgium; Ph.D in Maritime Operations and Economics from Liverpool John Moores University, UK; and Post-Doctorate fellowship in Maritime Operations from University of Liverpool. Since July 2018, he has recognized by Malaysia Board of Technologists (MBOT) as Professional Technologist (Ts.) in the field of Transportation and Logistics Technology. In addition, he is an active chartered member of professional bodies 1) The Chartered Institute of Logistics and Transport (CILT), Malaysia and 2) life member of Association of Malaysia's Maritime Professionals (IKMAL). He has published several refereed journal and conference papers under research interests of maritime operations, maritime business and economics, logistics distributive, shipping and port management, risk assessment and multiple criteria decision making approach.

Prof. Dr. Nikitas Nikitakos

University of Aegean, Greece
Dept. Shipping, Trade and Transport, Faculty of Management Sciences

Topic: Green ports

Prof. N. Nikitakos is a graduate of Hellenic Naval Academy (1980) and holds a B.Sc. in Economics (University of Piraeus 1986) and 2 M.Sc. from Naval Postgraduate School, Monterey, CA, USA (M.Sc. Electrical Engineering and - M.Sc. in Appl. Mathematics). He spent 25 years as Naval Officer (Captain H.N. ret.) when he participated in several NATO and EU committees He received a Ph.D. in Electrical and Computer Engineering from National Technical University of Athens (1996). He is Professor of Shipping Informatics and New Technologies and was Head of the Dept. of Shipping Trade and Transport in the University of the Aegean (2005-2009). He was AMMITEC's (Association of Maritime Managers Information Technology Electronics and Communication) president from 2006-2010 and President of Aegean Institute of the Law of the Sea and Maritime law in Rhodes (2009-2015). He participated in more than 50 European research project and studies. He holds 3 international patents on renewable energies at sea and he was awarded from Lloyd's List on Maritime Technological Innovation in 2006. He has published 5 books and many articles in international referred journals and conferences. Since 2009 he is research fellow at the Center for Security Studies - KEMEA of the Hellenic Ministry of Public Order and Citizens Protection. He holds ISPS, PMP and PMI-RPM certifications.

Prof. Dr. Gang Chen

Shanghai Maritime University, China
China Institute of FTZ Supply Chain

Aalborg University, Denmark
Department of Mechanical and Manufacturing Engineering

Topic: An consideration of the container terminal

Gang Chen is an Associate Professor in Aalborg University and Shanghai Maritime University. His research areas includes shipping and logistics, marine terminal operation modelling, system simulation, queueing theory and optimization.

Specialties: liner shipping market analysis, terminal operations modelling, evolution algorithms, queueing theory, simulation, transport and logistics modeling.

B.Sc. in International Shipping Management, Dalian Maritime University, Dalian, China.

M.Sc. in Economics and Business Administration, University of Southern Denmark, Denmark.

Ph.D. in Logistics Management, "Essays on Truck Arrival Management in a Seaport", Department of Environmental and Business Economics (IME department), University of Southern Denmark, Denmark.